

Cookie Policy

1. What Are Cookies

Cookies are small text files that a website stores in your browser to remember your actions and preferences. This website also uses browser Local Storage for similar purposes. Both are referred to below as "cookies."

We use cookies to keep the website working properly, personalize content, provide social media features, and analyze traffic. We may also share information about your use of this website with our social media, advertising, and analytics partners.

2. Categories of Cookies Used on This Website

Category	Purpose	Can You Refuse?
Necessary cookies	Essential for the website to function and cannot be switched off in our systems. They are usually set only in response to actions you take, such as setting privacy preferences, logging in, or filling in forms. You can set your browser to block or alert you about these cookies, but some parts of the website may then not work.	No (always on)
Functional cookies	Enable enhanced functionality and personalized content, such as videos, live chat, and language preferences. They may be set by us or by third-party providers whose services are embedded in our pages. If you do not allow them, some or all of these features may not work properly.	Yes, via the cookie switches on the Privacy Policy page
Marketing cookies	Track visitors' browsing history across the website to show advertisements that are relevant and engaging to individual users, and to analyze traffic (this website uses Google Analytics).	Yes, via the cookie switches on the Privacy Policy page

Marketing cookies include:

- Targeting cookies: Set through this website by our advertising partners. They may use these cookies to build a profile of your interests and show you relevant advertisements on other websites. If you do not allow them, you will not see targeted advertising across different websites.
- Social media cookies: Set by the social media services we have added to this website, enabling you to share our content with friends and networks. They may track your browser across other websites and build a profile of your interests, which may affect the content and messages you see elsewhere. If you do not allow them, you may not be able to use or see these sharing tools.

3. Third-Party Cookies

This website uses Google Analytics to analyze traffic. Google may collect and process anonymous usage data; please refer to Google's privacy policy for details. Cookies set by the advertising and social media partners mentioned above are also governed by the respective third parties' privacy policies.

4. Retention Period

Retention periods vary by cookie, up to a maximum of 2 years.

5. How to Manage or Withdraw Consent

1. You may visit the Privacy Policy page of this website and use the cookie management switches on that page at any time to change your choices or withdraw your consent.
2. You may also delete or block cookies in your browser settings, although some website features may then not work properly.

6. Relationship to the Privacy Policy

This policy forms part of this website's Privacy Policy. For how personal data is collected, processed, used, and protected, please refer to our Privacy Policy (<https://www.diva.com.tw/en/privacy/>). We may revise this policy in response to legal requirements or service changes; revised versions will be posted on this website.

7. Contact

If you have any questions about this policy or personal data protection, please contact:
Management Division, Diva Laboratories Ltd.
Tel: +886-2-2226-8631